

MEETING THE CHALLENGES CLIMATE CHANGE PRESENTS TO SCOTLAND'S HISTORIC ENVIRONMENT

17th & 18th of November 2011
FYVIE CASTLE, FYVIE, ABERDEENSHIRE

On Thursday the 17th & Friday the 18th of November 2011, the Scottish Traditional Skills Training Centre is presenting a two-day education/training programme directed towards providing participants with highly useful information, as well as practical advice and guidance, concerning the interventions required in order to meet the Challenges Climate Change Presents to Scotland's Historic Environment.

The course, which will be held at The National Trust for Scotland's Fyvie Castle in Aberdeenshire, will incorporate presentations by a range of leading authorities from throughout the country, who possess in-depth knowledge and understanding of this critically important, yet often confusing and misunderstood subject.

Those attending will include representatives of Conservation Organisations, Local Authority Planning Departments and other Public Bodies, as well as Community-based Organisations, Private Individuals and Professionals involved in the conservation, repair and maintenance of Scotland's built and landscape heritage.

As support for the development and delivery of the programme has been received from The Scottish Government's Climate Challenge Fund and Historic Scotland, as well as a Private Sector sponsor, we will not be charging a fee for those attending the 2 days.

While catering and refreshments during the two days will be provided to delegates free of charge, a donation to help meet the costs of the dinner to be held on the Thursday evening would be gratefully received. Those attending will need to arrange their own transport and accommodation.

To enable a high degree of participant involvement and interaction with those presenting the course, the number of delegate places available are limited and are therefore offered on a first come first served basis. In order to secure your place on the course, we would advise you to email us at soundcraft@towiebarclay.co.uk as soon as possible, or contact us by telephone on 01888 511347.

Please find attached a proposed draft Agenda for the course, which will provide you with an indication of the range of topics to be addressed during the 2 days, as well as the individuals who will be presenting them.

If you have any questions or require any further information please don't hesitate to contact us, by email or telephone.
