

eco congregation Scotland

This baton, made from a recycled church pew, is being passed from church to church across Scotland with a message for those taking part in the Paris climate talks in December.

COP21

COP21 is the 21st session of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. It aims to reach an international agreement on measures to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Our message

Now is the time for climate justice. Churches are calling for a binding agreement to prevent runaway climate change; an agreement recognising that those countries most affected by climate change are those who have done the least to cause it.

About us

Eco-Congregation Scotland is an ecumenical movement helping local groups of Christians link environmental issues to their faith, reduce their environmental impact, and engage with the community.

Registration

There are over 300 eco-congregations in Scotland.

To join them please visit our web site or ask us for a registration form.

You do not need to have done any environmental work to register — it is a statement of intent; that your church is concerned about the environment and wants to do something about it in the future.

Join us today!

To register as an eco-congregation or for further information please visit our web site: www.ecocongregationscotland.org

✉ Eco-Congregation Scotland, 121 George Street, Edinburgh, EH2 4YN

📧 manager@ecocongregationscotland.org

☎ 0131 240 2274

Registered Charity SC041287