

How to get to Glencruitten House:

Glencruitten House is approximately 2 miles from the centre of Oban. From the town centre, take the A816 south, then take the left fork into Glencruitten Road (at Kilmore and Oban Church). Follow Glencruitten Road up the hill and then to the right through the golf course. Continue as it bends left then right under the railway bridge, and the entrance to Glencruitten house is about ½ a mile further, on the right.

For satnav users, postcode is PA34 4QB

Everyone is welcome

(not just members of eco-congregations, so bring your friends)

Please book ahead if at all possible, so that we know numbers in advance
(but if you don't know until the last moment, please come anyway)

Eco-Congregation Scotland • Registered office: 121 George Street, Edinburgh EH2 4YN
Tel: 0131 240 2274 • Email: scotland@ecocongregation.org.uk • Website:
www.ecocongregation.org.uk/scotland

Eco-Congregation Scotland is a Scottish Charity, No. SC041287

Sat 17th Sept
2016

All-Argyll gathering Glencruitten House, Oban

10am – 3.30pm

worship, seminars, garden visits

All welcome

main speakers:

Scott Wham, architect, on church buildings

Adrian Shaw, ECS, on COP21, what next?

Gabrielle Flynn, Buglife, supporting biodiversity

For more information or to book:
coordinator@ecocongregationscotland.org
or phone 07950 244 329

All-Argyll Eco-congregation Scotland network gathering
Glencruitten House and gardens, Oban
Saturday, 17th September, 2016

Programme

10.00	Arrivals/coffee etc
10.30	Welcomes and Introductions
10.40	Opening Worship	Rev Trevor Jamison. Chaplain to ECS
11.00	Eco-Congregation in Scotland What it is, what it does, how you can be involved	David Bethune ECS Programme Co-ordinator
11.20	The Cowal Churches Project An introduction to a live pilot study project exploring the potential for microgeneration and energy efficient heating systems in church buildings across the Cowal Peninsula.	Scott Wham, architect
12.00	Choice of 3 workshops:
	(1) What can we do with our church building? – a chance to discuss the practical issues that you are faced with	Scott Wham
	(2) Almost a year since COP21 – now what? - a chance to think about what COP21 achieved, and what we can be doing about it now	Adrian Shaw
	(3) Buglife – how can we support biodiversity in our local environments?	Gabrielle Flynn
12.45	Plenary worship	Trevor Jamison
13.00	Lunch Please bring your own sandwiches. Soup will be provided, made from the produce of the garden. Teas/coffees and biscuits will be available.
14.00	Garden visit – a chance for a guided or unguided tour of the walled garden, or to continue your discussions with Scott, Adrian, Trevor or David.	All
15.30	Close

All-Argyll Eco-congregation Scotland network gathering
Glencruitten House and gardens, Oban
Saturday, 17th September, 2016

BOOKING FORM

Name
Church or organisation
Other members of your congregation who are coming with you:

This event is free, but bring your own sandwiches etc for lunch.

Teas, coffees and a bowl of soup will be provided.

Please let us know if any in your party have any special dietary (or other) requirements:

--

If you are coming by public transport, and require transport from the centre of Oban to Glencruitten House, please give details here (number of people, arrival time, bus/train, contact number or e-mail so that we can confirm the arrangement):

--

PLEASE RETURN THIS FORM by FRIDAY 9th September to David Bethune, Programme Coordinator
coordinator@ecocongregationscotland.org

Eco-Congregation Scotland • Registered office: 121 George Street, Edinburgh EH2 4YN
Tel: 0131 240 2274 • Email: scotland@ecocongregation.org.uk • Website: www.ecocongregation.org.uk/scotland

Eco-Congregation Scotland is a Scottish Charity, No. SC041287