

The Judge with evil thoughts

(James Chapter 2)

Order order!
Inferiors down there.
The better sort of people up here, near me, where the chairs are cosy and the air-conditioning is on.

It's cool to be cool, don't you know !

Of course, I'm here to serve humanity.
That has to be the absolute priority over any of the LOWER creatures.
After all they're only here to serve us.
Rather like the lower ORDERS really, though I suppose I have to call them people.
But talking the talk and walking the walk never the twain shall meet

But nobody WALKS when they can ride, do they?
What a lovely Tesla-
You'd better not park that filthy old banger any where near it?
What, can't you afford a decent ride?

Yes, I'm very well informed about your situation.
The fossil fuel companies have been keeping us in the know for decades.
Not that you ever NEEDED to know that.
That's what I think.

Of Course, I know it wont be the well-off citizens who give ME any trouble.

The criminal class is always the bottom of the heap.
We just have to make sure they know their place and stay there.
And I'm sure they get what they deserve.

I know I do
I make sure of that!
`first come, first served, and
YOU cam in late:
I made sure of that too!

Order order!

I'm western, white, male, middle aged, educated.
There's nothing wrong with any of those things is there?
That WOULD really be prejudice.

Money talks, you know: it talks to me so engagingly that it and drowns out your pathetic protest.
Money talks: it's a tolerable dinner guest.

I think. I think therefore I am. Of course, if you don't speak my language then as far as I'm concerned, you don't think and so you aren't. Animals and underlings both.
What's the difference?
And the Earth, a pile of rock and mud, what's it good for but to be trodden on.
Just like you filthy ragged people down there!

The world belongs to God, you say?
Strange that, I thought my clients bought it all up years ago,

After all, I read the Bible- at least, I swear at, or by or on it.

Order order!

Global South? Ha! Down there!
Women! back in the kitchen, look pretty, and do what you're told.

You actually think it's worth educating women?
They'd only want a say in things.
Where would that get us?

You people with ...something a bit wrong about your faces. Keep in the shade.

Yes, we know you have it hard.
But quite frankly, we've got our hands full with business as usual!
Where do you think it all comes from to keep you in the way you're accustomed?
Monet doesn't grow on trees.
if it did, we'd be planting them like there's no tomorrow.

Yes, of course you're right, but people don't want to know that.
Have a bit of mercy on them! Go easy on them.
After all, it's not the end of the world, is it?
Why do you want to change things
As you can see, they work very well already!

The law has to protect me so I can be impartial. Of course, it depends what you mean by that, but when I use a word, it means exactly what I want it to mean, not what you want it to mean.

You see, I'm the judge of that
Order order!

Justice. Fairness, Rule of Law.
Who you think it's all for?

You want to hold back progress or something
Hold back growth?
And you'll want to call yourselves green and progressive next?
Indeed, you're about as green as it comes.

Green with envy!
green as Grass!
But I know better!

Order! order!
